

REAL ESTATE

September 28, 2007

By Tony Illia

Altitude Development Corp. recently began site work on a new $250 million 420-unit mid-rise condominium complex at Bristlecone Drive and Highway 143 in Brian Head, Utah, 170 miles north of Las Vegas. The 42-acre Summit at Brian Head calls for 13, four-story buildings with a landscaped plaza. M-13 Construction of Springdale, Utah, is the general contractor, and Salt Lake City-based MagnetBank is providing the project financing. The initial three-building phase is scheduled to break ground in the spring of 2008.

Altitude Development Corp. recently began site work on a new $250 million 420-unit mid-rise condominium complex at Bristlecone Drive and Highway 143 in Brian Head, Utah, 170 miles north of Las Vegas. The initial phase of the 42-acre Summit at Brian Head is scheduled to break ground in the spring of 2008. COURTESY MICHAEL JABARA